1. Purpose.

This full-time personnel regulation provides methods and conveys discretion in filling vacancies and implements the California National Guard policy for technician reemployment placement within the California National Guard. It also applies to California National Guard ANG and ARNG military technicians when giving consideration to former technicians for vacancies. The restrictions in this chapter apply to all vacancies regardless of whether an activity plans to make a temporary, term, or permanent appointment. Reemployment of technicians from 'active' military service (USERRA) is not covered by this chapter (see CNGTPR 353, Uniformed Services Employment and Re-Employment).

(4) All employees should maintain high standards of integrity, conduct, and concern for the public interest.

(5) The Federal work force should be used efficiently and effectively.

k. Take or fail to take any other personnel action if the taking of or failure to take such action violates any law, rule, or regulation implementing or directly concerning the merit system principles contained in section 2301 of title 5 USC.

5. Direct Hire Authority.

Direct hire authority for Dual Status positions is designed to provide the needed flexibilities to effectively recruit eligibles for appointment to positions in shortage or critical shortage occupations and is based on a continuing shortage of qualified candidates that meet the requirements for highly specialized positions. The HRO will:

a. Ensure fair and open competition is used in selections and is based solely on the basis of relative KSAs.

b. Implement procedures to monitor specific recruitment conditions to justify use of direct hire authority.

c. Establish documentation procedures sufficient to be able to justify the use of direct hire authority.

6. Procedures.

Technicians are entitled to consideration for positions within the commuting area for which qualified and available at no higher grade (or equivalent), that have no greater promotion potential, and have the same type of work schedule.

a. Dual Status Positions. Prior to recruitment for dual-status military technician positions, the Human Resources Office must insure consideration is given to candidates in priority programs. This requirement applies to permanent, temporary, and part-time positions at all General Schedule (GS) and Federal Wage System (FWS) grades and in special pay systems.

b. Non-Dual Status Positions. Prior to recruitment for NDS technician positions, the Human Resources Office must insure consideration is given to candidates in priority programs. This requirement applies to permanent, temporary, and part-time positions at all General Schedule (GS) and Federal Wage System (FWS) grades and in special pay systems.

7. Reemployment Priority List (RPL).

The reemployment priority list (RPL) is the mechanism used to provide “reemployment consideration” for technicians who are separated by reduction-in-force (RIF), those separated as a result of “compensable injury or disability” or who are separated (or accept a lower graded position) through no fault of their own (non-retention, management directed actions, etc.).

a. It is National Guard policy that eligible reemployment applicants are provided priority consideration for appropriate vacancies within the individual’s local commuting area. Within the National Guard, reemployment priority placement will be implemented in accordance with restrictions and modifications contained in this chapter. The RPL is a required component of the placement program. The HRO is required to establish and maintain a reemployment priority list for positions affected by RIF or to facilitate placement of a technician recovered from compensable injury.

b. Technicians must be considered for non-permanent and well as permanent positions when they have indicated interest and availability for both. In lieu of expanded consideration in other locations, a technician who cannot be placed in an equivalent position in the former commuting areas may elect to be considered for the next available position in the former or current commuting area.

8. Priority Placement Program.

The Priority Placement Program (PPP) is an administrative program unique to DoD. One of its purposes is to provide maximum opportunity for placement in other DoD positions. The PPP is not required by statute or government regulation; it is a placement program in addition to the RPL, it is not the DoD version of the RPL required by statute. See CNG TPH 1006, DoD Priority Placement Program, for further information.

9. Consideration, Qualification Requirements, Selection.

The technician must meet established qualification standards and requirements for the position, including minimum educational requirements, compatibility and any selection placement factors established by the local merit placement plan. Exception to the conditions may be made if the exception is applied consistently and equitably. The technician must meet any minimum educational requirement, and the selecting official determines the individual has the capacity, adaptability, and special skills (compatibility) needed to satisfactorily perform the duties and responsibilities of the position.

10. Strategic Recruitment.

The following tools are available to commanders, directors, managers, and supervisors to assist in the recruitment or placement of individuals in technician positions:

a. Interview Expenses. Selecting officials may offer to pay the travel and transportation expenses for applicants for positions who are not in the local area for the purpose of attending a personal interview and/or board. If offered to one applicant, each non-local applicant must also be offered the same opportunity. Administratively, place the individual(s) on invitational travel orders and have them submit a travel reimbursement claim to the appropriate travel office.

b. Permanent Change of Station (PCS). PCS is paid to current permanent federal employees IAW the Joint Travel Regulation. See CNG TPH 1005 for additional information.

- c. Recruitment Bonus, Relocation Bonus, and Retention Allowances – See CNG TPR 575.
- d. Advanced-in-Hire Rates Based on Superior Qualifications – See CNG TPR 301.
- e. Student Loan Repayment – See CNG TPR 537.
